Dear Valued Partner,

Last year, FMC Corporation changed the name of its business that serves the food, personal care, nutraceutical, pharmaceutical and industrial markets from FMC BioPolymer to FMC Health and Nutrition. This name better reflects the broader marketplace where FMC will invest in the future, as well as FMC's commitment to providing you with solutions to help fuel healthier lifestyles and nourish a growing population.

Here are some important things to note about this change:

- Instead of the FMC BioPolymer trade name and logo (FMC BioPolymer), you will see the broader FMC Corporation name and logo (FMC).
- These changes will appear on packaging and letterhead, among other materials; however, they do not reflect any change in operating entities, processes, raw materials and/or manufacturing locations. Please find representative examples of updated labels, packaging, and COAs attached to this letter.
- FMC will update its own regulatory filings and related documentation as required.
- You may continue to see the FMC BioPolymer logo on material as we deplete inventory produced prior to the change effective date.

FMC will implement these changes after 1 July 2015. We appreciate your patience as we work to ensure this transition is as seamless to you as possible. While our name has changed, our commitment to quality, service and becoming the best supplier and business partner possible has not. If you have any questions, please contact your FMC representative.
